

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LegalWills.co.uk launches innovative, do-it-yourself legal Will service.

London, England – March 31st, 2009. Every adult in the UK should have prepared their Last Will and Testament, but as many as two thirds have not. The most common reasons cited by individuals are the inconvenience of setting up meetings with a solicitor and, in these tough economic times, the high cost of hiring professional assistance. What many people do not realize, however, is that there is no requirement to use the services of a solicitor to create one's Will. A new service offered by www.legalwills.co.uk allows individuals to prepare their Will, in the convenience of their own home, for a fraction of the cost of hiring a solicitor.

Legalwills.co.uk has worked with solicitors in the UK to provide a completely interactive service with clear, concise online help that steps people through the process of creating a legal Will. The service makes use of advanced technology and the ultimate convenience of the Internet, to allow visitors to the site to complete their own Will in around 30-40 minutes. The clauses used in the document are the exact same clauses used by solicitors throughout the UK today, and the finished document is as legally binding as a professionally prepared document. With the service being fully interactive, it guards against the most common pitfalls inherent within store bought do-it-yourself will kits, without the expense of hiring a solicitor.

“Creating a Will used to be an expensive and inconvenient business” explains CEO Tim Hewson “but now customers can finally take charge of their own affairs and finally cross ‘make a Will’ off their To Do list”. For an introductory rate of just £34.95, customers can have a fully legal Will in their hands in just minutes.

An added advantage of this service is that customers can store their documents securely online. Instead of returning to a solicitor to update their Will, they are able to address any changes in their personal or financial situation by logging into their account, making a change to an asset or beneficiary, and then printing out a new version. Once this is signed and witnessed, they have a new, up-to-date Will.

Other complementary services available at LegalWills.co.uk include an interactive funeral wishes application and Living Will creation tool.

The service is currently available for residents of England and Wales.
